Gleanings Here, There and Everywhere, But Mostly in Oxford County

BY LEONARD B. CHAPMAN.

REV. DANIEL MASON—HIS MARriages.

Dr. William B. Lapham in his history of Bethel tells the public a little about the first Calvinist Baptists of the town, or when it was a plantation before it put on the robes of a town organization. It seems the Baptists of East Bethel—few in numbers and far between—got into line in advance of the Congregationalists and organized a church society in 1795 and had preaching but "there was no increase and at the end of seven years the society numbered only two." In that year two were added. In 1803 the society consisted of six when the Lord's supper was indulged in the first time. Then there was a "revival," and in 1805 an act of incorporation was obtained from the Massachusetts legislature, the names of twenty-seven appearing upon the record pages. Rev. Ebenezer Bray was the first settled minister, who remained five years, under whose ministry twenty-nine were added to the church society who was followed by Rev. Arthur Drinkwater, then Elder Daniel Mason came from Freeport, at which place he was ordained October 9, 1811, and there commenced his labors in the ministry. In 1817 he appears upon the records at Middle Intervale in Bethel, the Rev. Robert Mitchell taking his place in Freeport, the year Elder Mason appears in Bethel. The dates stating when he left Freeport and when he appeared at Middle Intervale conflict slightly but this does not change the fact that in early manhood he was a manual laborer at Coopering but feeling called upon to preach the gospel of Christ entered the vineyard though ill prepared from the study of books.

Elder Daniel Mason was born in Stratham, N. H., 1781, and as I have stated, his early advantages derived from schools were limited. What brought him to Freeport cannot be learned. It is claimed that the Baptist church there was the second in the State of the denomination. It is also stated that he had two wives but whether or not he was a widower upon arriving in Bethel, nothing relative to his early career has been found that tells the story. In Bethel he married Mrs. Mary (Knight) Merrill, and she had several children by him. When he arrived in Bethel the meeting house was not half finished—in fact it was not in a state of occupancy, standing where the present house is seen, and upon its present foundation, or site. The roof was on, and the walls partly boarded. It was much taller than it now appears. He had the posts cut off and the roof lowered about seven feet. This fact I received from the mouth of a daughter of his. He worked six days of the week in clearing up his farm land, and at Coopering and officiated in God's tabernacle upon the seventh. He did not keep a journal or record of any event except a record of marriages solemnized in Freeport and Bethel in a little book about 4 1/2 inches square, home made, all of which I have copied and here present. I might have obtained more facts had I commenced sooner to collect, but have enough for a long story. The land upon which he lived is good, his house, one story, was large upon the ground, long and pleasantly situated, good and large out buildings, with a stream of water passing through his land, and a stream of water passing through his land, and a stream of water passing through his land.

It is stated in the Bethel history that Elder Mason had two wives by the name of Robinson before his appearance in Bethel, but when and where death came to them cannot be learned. The names of the two sons, born records do not state. The names of the two sons, born records do not state.

BETHEL LODGE OF MASONS ENTERTAIN

Thursday evening Bethel Lodge No. 97, F. & A. M., was host to a large number of Masons from Rumford, Gorham and Berlin.

About seven o'clock the automobiles began to arrive and from that time until midnight there was a joyful crowd in and about the hall.

Work began at eight o'clock and two candidates received the Master Mason degree. During the evening Davis G. Lovejoy was introduced as District Deputy for the 16th District of Maine, as also was Holman A. Drew, Grand Master of New Hampshire Lodges.

About sixty came from Rumford among whom were Past Masters Cyrus P. Eaton, Virgil A. Linell, Ralph M. Woodsum, L. L. Niles and Gerald A. Peabody, and Leon M. Small of Mexico. Worthy Master of King Hiram Lodge of Dixfield.

Forty-five or more came down from Berlin and Gorham, who, with those from this place, swelled the total number present to over one hundred and fifty. The Past Masters present from Berlin were Holman A. Drew, Grand Master of New Hampshire, Harry W. Noyes and Robert Smith, and from Gorham were H. G. Noyes, F. R. Jennings, G. W. Noyes, Henry J. Fane, G. C. Libby, E. W. Evans, R. K. Freeman and the present Master of Gorham Lodge, S. S. Bennett.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cakes, fruit and punch were served. May there be many more such gatherings so that the bond of brotherly love will be cemented more strongly between neighboring lodges.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas: Our Brother, Robert L. Bennett, has been called from this life to Life Beyond, Be It,

Resolved:—That it is left that example of loyalty to truth and brotherhood which is ours by the example of his life. And by his sudden death may we be mindful of the brevity of life and the uncertainty of human greatness. May the obligations he took with us be made more a part of our daily life by this lesson. Be It,

Resolved:—That by sending a copy of these resolutions to his bereaved family we express to them, in a measure, our grief at the loss of so good a brother and our sympathy to them in this their time of sorrow. Be It,

Resolved:—That a copy of these resolutions be published for one week in the Oxford County Citizen, and spread upon our records. May our Lodge be reminded of its loss by the presence of suitable mourning for one month.

RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas:—The noble, earnest spirit of our Brother, T. G. Lary, has been summoned to the land where our fathers have gone before us. Be It,

Resolved:—That as a body of fraternal men we do mourn our loss, and while stones and lettered monuments symbolize the affection of surviving relatives, we as brothers miss the kindly face and gracious ability of this man who once lived as we now live, who once walked as we now walk, and who once labored for the betterment of friends and neighbors as we might now to labor. Be It,

Resolved:—That in the passing of our life from our sight may we learn the lesson which death teaches, and resolve more fully to seek the favor of the Eternal God, so that when that awful moment comes we too may be enabled to go on our journey, without dread, to that country from where beacons no traveler returns. Be It,

Resolved:—That as a Lodge we extend to his nearest relatives our sympathy—sincere, deep, and affectionate, and point steadfastly toward "Him who death all things well." Be It,

Resolved:—That we cause these resolutions to be spread upon our records.

Published for one week in the Oxford County Citizen. May our Lodge room be found in appropriate mourning for thirty days.

INSTRUCTION FOR VETERANS

Those Going to Gettysburg Now Receiving Notifications of Arrangements.

Hon. F. E. Boothby of Portland, commissioner for the State of Maine in the 50th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, which Maine veterans are to attend as guests of the State, is now sending out the following letter of instructions to be followed in preparing for the trip:

June 18, 1913.

To the Veterans of the Civil War: General Joshua L. Chamberlain, representative for Maine on the General commission on arrangements for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, attended on the 15th and 16th of May, a meeting of the General commission, and from his report to the governor, information is hereby given of arrangements made by the State of Maine for the proper credentials, transportation, subsistence and medical care of veterans visiting Gettysburg on this occasion.

In connection with the anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg, July 1-4, the State has appropriated necessary funds to provide transportation to honorably discharged veterans of the Civil war, who were actually participants in the battle or on detached service or special duty on the battle field.

An order for a ticket to Gettysburg and return in accordance with your reply to our postal card of May 26, and good only for yourself, is herewith enclosed. This ticket is good for 15 days and on return "stop overs," for those desiring, will be allowed in Philadelphia and New York.

The commissioners feel it their duty to call the attention of aged and decrepit comrades to the necessity of carefully considering their condition, as no one who has any doubt as to his ability to stand the strain should venture on the journey, and, if perchance, you should decide not to use the order in question it should at once be returned to this office; the state trusting in this respect to the honor of each. These orders should, as far as possible, be presented to the station agent previous to departure in order to avoid delay. It being, however, impossible to procure through tickets previous to June 25.

A special train will leave Portland at 7 p. m., Saturday, June 23, or after arrival of all trains from the east, and will be due in Gettysburg in season for supper, June 29. Returning will leave Gettysburg at 7:30 a. m., July 5. Special train from New York to Portland to leave Grand Central station at 7 p. m. On arrival of the train in New York from Portland on the morning of the 20th and that from Gettysburg on afternoon of July 5, Fifth Avenue omnibuses will be provided for transfer between Grand Central and Pennsylvania stations for those making the journey at the expense of the State.

Each and every veteran who participates in this great reunion celebration should fill out the identification tag, at so herewith, before leaving the borders of the state, and always carry same throughout the entire journey. Baggage will be furnished on going trip for supper, breakfast and lunch, and on the return trip for lunch, supper and breakfast.

A State badge is sent herewith. A limited number will be retained in this office for those desiring same who do not make the trip and will be sent on application and a remittance of 25 cents.

Veterans are urged to wear, not on the badge provided for this occasion, but their original Army, Corps, Division, Brigade, and Society badges as a means of identification to their comrades in like commands.

Many of the States provide only day coaches for the entire journey, but Maine is to furnish sleeping accommodations, between Portland and New York each way at least 40 men will occupy one 12 section and drawing room cars.

Those requiring two is the lower berth and one in the upper.

As far as possible comrades who served in certain regiments will be assigned to the same car, and it will be up to them to arrange themselves in accordance with the plan.

All Veterans of the Civil War whether or not in the Battle of Gettysburg are invited to attend.

OBITUARIES.

TALLYRAND G. LARY.

Tallyrand G. Lary was born in Glen, Maine, sixty-seven years ago, the youngest of the eighteen children born to Thomas and Myra Burbank Lary, only one of which survives him, Mrs. I. H. Estes of Lewiston.

Mr. Lary was twice married. The first wife was Abbie Andrews by whom he had two children, both dying in infancy, and the second was Emma Cummings. Neither wife survives him. Mr. Lary was an influential man in the community where he lived and was an able business man. He served Glen as a selectman for many years and had the interest of his town at heart.

Failing health obliged him to give up active farming and last March he purchased the J. F. Plummer store at So. Paris which he ran through a manager. It was while on a visit to his store that he was taken with severe attacks of bright's disease from which he did not rally.

The funeral services were held at his home in Glen on Thursday, June 12, and he was buried in the family lot near his home.

Pleasant Reveries—A Column
Dedicated to Tired Mothers

"Be not simply good—be good for something."

"It ain't the roads we take—it's what's inside of us that makes us turn out the way we do.—O. Henry."

"Our influence depends not so much on what we know, or even on what we do, but upon what we are."

"Cheerfulness is what greases the axles of the world. Some people go through life creaking."

VALUE OF THE FAMILY MEAL.
An Important Factor in the Service of the House.

Attention has been called recently to the need of training parents. And this need has been emphasized by evidence of the undermining or disintegration of the home. The family is the social unit, and in the family the obligation of the parent is paramount. God "placed the solitary in families," before he placed them in churches. It is in the family that we first learn and under the happiest auspices, to live as social beings. The aim in the home, therefore, should be to live as a social group and not simply as individuals. All that cultivates this recognition of social relations in the home serves to make the individual a better member of general human society later on.

In these days the failure to recognize the social relations of the family is all too common. Each is inclined to go his own way. The father gives himself to business, the mother is responding to social engagements, or to the exigent demand of women's clubs; the children are off to school or to the playground. None of these occupations is evil in itself. But while we do these things we need sometimes to consider what has been left undone. One way to counteract this individualizing tendency is for parents to recognize and to emphasize the family meal as a social occasion. This is the occasion when the family is most likely to be together. Here, then, the effort should be made to live together. But at this meal too often each arrives at a time which suits the individual convenience and each leaves when he or she has eaten enough. The family dining room is degraded into a quick-lunch restaurant, where each hurries in to get something to eat and hurries out again.

When Jesus would feed the multitude in the wilderness he did not allow them to crowd around the baskets like pigs in a trough in order greedily to grasp doles of bread and fish. He commanded that all should sit down in companies. When order was secured, having lifted up his eyes to heaven, in recognition of a power without whose co-operation the earth would not have yielded her increase, he blessed and broke the loaves. Then he gave to his disciples and the disciples gave to the multitude. Similarly it can be done the second course of fish. There was an orderly service of a social meal, and not simply a hasty doling out of food to hungry individuals.

The value of a social meal is too often overlooked. It is there that children naturally acquire their manners; it is there, too, that parents are relieved from the pressure of the hygienic of their individual life, as they enter into social fellowship with their children. It is there that individual greed is checked, and the rights of others come almost unconsciously to be recognized. And it is there that ideals are modified and may be elevated. Conversation should be free.

If your silver spoons are stained by eggs try rubbing them with table salt. If alfalfa is occasionally rubbed with a mixture of beeswax and turpentine it will last much longer.

To hurry the cooking process of any thing cooked in a double boiler, add salt to the water in the outer boiler.

Apple sauce strained and stiffened with a little gelatine makes a delicious and simple dessert for luncheon when served with whipped cream.

When making milk and, to dissolve cornmeal and Graham flour in cold water before mixing it in the boiling will prevent lumps.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

With the Panama Canal nearing completion, Col. Goethals being authority for the statement that "by January, 1915, anything that floats can pass through the Canal between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans," interest is on the increase in all the Atlantic and Pacific coast cities to get ready for the added trade expected.

New Orleans is the latest municipality to feel the influence of an all-water route from the coal fields of Alabama and is preparing to grapple with Pennsylvania for the fuel market on the lower Mississippi, so that when the Panama Canal is an actuality it will be in a position to take care of the increase in trade its position rightfully commands.

What has been a dream for a generation or more on the part of the people of New Orleans, cheaper coal, has become a realization through a new water route just opened which taps the coal fields of Alabama, this new waterway being accomplished by the recently deepened channels through the Tombigbee and the Alabama rivers into Mississippi Sound and thence to New Orleans by a short cut through Lake Borgne and the canal connecting the lake with the river.

While the first shipment was small, it is confidently believed it is the forerunner of millions of tons of coal and marks the accomplishment of one of the most important commercial achievements in the southwest since Eads cut his channel through the shifting bar at the mouth of the Mississippi.

For the purpose of accomplishing just such improvements as the all-water route from the Alabama coal fields to the Gulf of National Rivers and Harbors Congress was formed and it takes to itself some of the congratulations in the crystallization of a sentiment that has made this improvement possible.

The longest and loudest wail of distress heard by the new Democratic administration has reached Washington from thousands of small cities, villages, hamlets and other centers of rural America. It is a cry of protest against the action of Postmaster General Burleson in abolishing the back-stamping of letters.

Formerly a postmaster was required, as soon as he opened a mail bag, to stamp letters on the back with the date and hour of arrival and then to sort them for delivery. Mr. Burleson thought this practice consumed too much time and he ordered it omitted. The complaints invariably have been to the effect that village postmasters are holding back the mail of their business competitors or their political or personal enemies. When back-stamping was required, a postmaster could not withhold mail without being convicted by the silent testimony of the date.

Uncle Sam is, after all, a good and wise employer, notwithstanding the "kicks" that are heard from some of his employees throughout the dominions over which his flag flies. The Reclamation Service, which is changing the waste places of the United States to gardens of great promise, has adopted the idea of providing amusement and entertainment for the thousands of employees under its supervision by introducing into the camps moving picture shows, thereby giving to those who are employed upon his varied projects such recreation and diversion as the normal body needs in its hour of relaxation.

Under the provisions of the 8 hour law the laborer's time on a government job is divided as follows: 4 hours work, 8 hours play and 8 hours sleep. In order to promote a feeling of contentment among the people thus cut off from the rest of the world, consideration must be given to matters of a social nature and your "Uncle Sam" has solved the problem of mind rest by creating a hall where evening lectures are given, papers and magazines are on file and the "movies" are shown to keep the employees in touch with the outside world it is doing. The expenses of the show and the cost of the equipment are reimbursed from the admission fee, which is nominal, and all profits accruing are invested in new attractions.

On the Rio Grande project in New Mexico the moving picture show is operated in connection with the regular Texas bi-weekly circuit and at the performance to March the daily attendance was in excess of two hundred.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness cured by our medicine, guaranteed by Dr. J. C. Smith, 231 N. 2nd St., St. Paul, Minn.

HEART THRILLING GEMS.

FAMILY FINANCING.
They tell me you work for $1 a day.
How is it you clothe your six boys all such pay?
I know you will think it concealed and queer,
But I do it because I'm a good financier.
There's Pete, John, Jim, Joe, William
and Ned,
A half-dozen boys to be clothed up and fed,
And I buy them all good, plain vas-tals to eat,
But clothing, I only buy clothing for Pete.
When Pete's clothes are too small for him to get on My wife makes them over and gives them to John.
When for John, who is 10, they have grown out of date,
She just makes them over for Jim, who is 8.
When for Jim they become too ragged to fit
She just makes them over for Joe, who
is 6;
And when little Joseph can't wear 'em
no more She just makes them over for Bill, who is 4.
And when young Bill they no longer will do
She just makes them over for Ned, who is 2.
So you see, if I get enough clothing
for Pete,
The family is furnished with clothing complete.
"But when Ned has got through with the clothing,
And when he has thrown it aside, what do you do with it then?"
Why, once more we go around the circle complete,
By beginning to use it for patches for Pete.

THE VEIL IS LIFTING.
By Rosemary.
At noon I met an aged man,
His way slow wending down the hill,
With empty pail to bear away
The sparkling water from the rill.
"Good morning little friend," he said—
I wish you would retrace your way
To tender little brook, with me,
For I have something I would say."

"Most gladly, Sir," and took the pail
And walked beside him to the brook.
There after dusk and graceful form
Combined to make a shady nook.
"Here warmly falls the summer shade,
And wild birds make their songs of gladness—
Here oft I've sat since old," he said—
"And this has been my halcyon;
For shadowy angels here have come
And mystic voices talked with me.
Of quiet waters beyond Death's tide,
Of fields that are forever green,
Of God the sunshine of that land,
As to the light of all things here,
The center, circle, morning, noon
Of Past, Present and To-Be—
Whom we call God and know no more Than what within his works we see,
The golden chain of Fatherhood,
In linking all humanity—
The love that is the Universe,
The best light of Eternity."

The old man panted: I knew that he had climbed some stony mountain height.
I waited his re-arrangement.
The garments, angelic and white,
But with the watch on earth his eyes Saw not the glory of "twas given
I only knew that could face
To me, was presence of Heaven.
"I want to know, for social guests
Have gone before to wait," they say,
"Come here with me, my child," he said.
"I am not here for a day?"
"Most gladly, Sir, I'd like to stay,
I feel 'tis good that I am here."
"And you should have had that death-ward window open to see to-night
The future blessing would be met,
With fragrance that the air
Is of that, too, had seen the guests—
And kindly take them into yours—
No grateful guests just home," said
I.

I took an aged man with me.
"God! Heaven is near, so near," he said.
I feel its glimmers on my breast.
The veil is lifting! can't you see?
The angels and the glory stand!
No, Lord, my Master, thank you I give Your victory to Christ! I'm free!
The veil had lifted! he was dead!
And in the morning's sun he lay
With loving angels he had gone
To with the hosts of Living grave.

LIFE.
The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honestly to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist; for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsapa-illa. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abundant. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

ESTATE OF JOHN JACOB AS-TOR SAID TO BE LARGEST EVER APPRAISED IN THE U. S.
The estate of Col. John Jacob Astor, who perished in the Titanic disaster, was appraised June 15 at close to $4,000,000 of which Vincent Astor receives $2,800,000; Mrs. Madeira Force Astor $750,000; Mariel Astor $450,000, and John Jacob Astor, son by his first marriage $250, 000.
The estate is declared to be the largest ever appraised in the country.
Aside from the announcement of the amounts that revert to the heirs, there are two outstanding features of interest. One is an affidavit of the examiners that the property embraced in the anticipatory agreement of Mrs.
Ava Walling Astor, amounting to about $1,750,000, which was to have reverted to her at the time of her husband's death, now terminates and goes to Vincent Astor for the reason that the death's notice, although once collected, was never legal widow is Mrs.
Madelaine Force Astor.
The second feature concerns the inheritance tax of Col. Astor. The estate saved a large sum of money by paying $1,250,000 to the state last February, within six months of Col. Astor's death, this payment earning a five per cent. rebate. The sum mentioned greatly exceeds any amount ever paid to any state as an inheritance tax, it is declared.

The appraisers placed the real estate value at about $2,000,000 less the value of the personal property close onto $2,000,000. The real estate is located on Broadway, Upper Fifth Avenue, Harlem, the Bronx, the East and West Sides and in Rinebeck, N. Y., and in places Col. Astor's Fifth Avenue and his home estate, Parkville, in Rine-beck, parts of the old Astor and the Waldorf Astors, the St. Regis and Katharine Hotel and other hotels and office building properties.
